

eBay: Buy, Sell & Save Money

About eBay: Buy & Sell

The official eBay app allows users to buy or sell items on the auction platform while they are on the move. Users can use all functions of eBay on their smartphone or tablet: You can bid on articles, keep an eye on auctions, or get in touch with buyers or sellers.

With eBay: Buy & Sell you always have your eBay account with you - even on the go. With your smartphone or tablet, you can not only buy items from many different categories, but also sell your own articles with just a few clicks. Since the app gives you a good overview of your purchases, observations and current auctions, you will always be up to date. The app also notifies you if you have been outbid in an auction or if an auction you are watching is about to end. In the app you will find great deals and offers every day, with which you can save even more money. Find bargains, sell your stuff fast and easy and never miss a deal.

eBay: Buy & Sell - Features:

- Buy items of all kinds: The official eBay app convinces above all by a wide range of articles. From fashion articles, car spare parts to electronics and furniture: In the eBay app you can find what you are looking for. To find the right product in the wide range of articles, simply use the search field of the app. Here you only have to enter keywords and matching items will be shown to you in a matter of seconds. Find the cheapest deal, look at the buyer reviews and buy the perfect article.
- Bid for items: eBay was initially a pure online auction house, which means that the items were not sold at a fixed price, but had to be bought by bidding for them. Although you can still find many items to bid on, the large sales offer has been supplemented by many items that can be bought for a fixed price with just one click.
- Sell items: In the eBay app, you can not only buy items, but also sell them. For this you simply have to take a picture of the product, write a short article description and then upload the complete listing on eBay.
- Overview of your eBay account: A big advantage of the eBay app is that you always have your eBay account with you. So you have a good overview of your purchases, your observations and your current auctions. The app also alerts you when you have been outbid in an auction or when an auction you are watching ends soon.

Conclusion: eBay: Buy & Sell offers you a wide selection of items that you can buy and sell quickly and easily. With the help of the app, you can use all functions of eBay also when you're on the move.
