

FLO Game

About FLO Game

FLO is a fast-paced mobile game in which players must use gravity to gain speed. If you lose speed and get caught by the wall of death, the game is over.

Especially one thing is needed in FLO: the right timing. To move through the game world, you must use gravity for you. By tapping on the screen, you can turn gravity on or off. You always move above or below the horizon. Depending on where you are right now, a different tactic is needed. For example, if you move above the horizon, your speed will increase as you roll down. But the reverse is true when you move below the horizon. You do not only have to turn gravity on or off at the right time, but you also have to dodge numerous obstacles such as mines or bombs. You can also compete directly with friends and see their score on the game screen.

FLO Game - Features:

- Turn gravity on and off: FLO is a fast-paced mobile game that's all about gravity. You control your character by switching gravity on and off. This can be done by a simple click on the screen. By changing the gravitational force at the right moment, you can gain speed. However, you always have to be aware of whether you are just above or below the horizon. If you move above the horizon, your speed will increase as you roll down. However, if you move below the horizon, it is the other way around. Then the speed is increased when you roll up.
- Avoid the wall of death: If you lose more and more speed during the course of the game, the so-called wall of death will follow you. As soon as the wall of death catches up with you, the game is over.
- Dodge all obstacles: Both above and below the horizon, there are numerous obstacles such as bombs or mines that need to be avoided. You dodge the obstacles by tapping and holding the screen.
- Compare with friends: FLO offers you the opportunity to connect the game with Facebook. When FLO and Facebook are connected, you can always see how well your friends have done. Of course, your goal is to beat your friends' score. Once you reach your friends' highest score, you can symbolically break the score on the game screen.

Conclusion: FLO is an entertaining and fast-paced one-click game, which probably requires some practice at the beginning. But once you get the hang of it, it's really fun to control gravity.
